

HENK RUITENBEEK has been a professional photographer for a quarter of a century. In that time, his work, his keen curiosity and his sense of adventure have taken him all over the world. Henk's work has appeared in different media around the world, and he has often given lectures and shows on his work and travels. His career includes highlights such as the first colour photographs ever taken of new-born aardwolf cubs, shot in Zimbabwe in 1996, and the upcoming publication Growing With Ghana, a history of Wienco and its sister companies. What Henk strives to achieve with his camera is to bring to the attention of his audience those elements - small, vulnerable and irreplaceable - that exist in both people and nature, and that fill him with both inspiration and a sense of commitment.
